2. The standard fee collected by Reloved Wedding Boutique for selling this item on the clients behalf has been agreed at £, This fee covers floor space, admin, insurance, storage, photography and marketing.

Once the dress has sold our standard fee will be deducted from the agreed selling price and the balance paid over to the client, when cleared funds are available to Reloved Wedding Boutique from the sale, plus 14 days.

3. The dress/item will remain in the boutique for a minimum of six months and no longer than seven months. (A new agreement will be made for additional periods of time). After six months the boutique will contact the client and advise that the garment has not sold and ask for it to be collected within 28 days. Within that 28 day period a total of two attempts will be made to contact the client, which will include writing to the client at the clients address (as notified below) using registered/signed for post at least once. If the client, or clients authorised representative, does not collect after the two letters have been sent out and the 28 day period has expired, then the dress will be sold at a discounted price in the boutique at a price level deemed suitable by Reloved Wedding Boutique. A storage/admin fee of £30 per 30 day period will be charged to the client after the dress has remained in the boutique after the 7 months has passed. If at any time the dress sells, the standard agreed fee for selling the dress is payable on top of any accrued storage/admin fee.

4. By signing this contract, I hereby give my consent for the dress to be photographed and advertised on social media.

5. By signing this contract, I hereby give my consent for the dress to used in bridal catwalks.

6. By signing this contract, I hereby give my consent for an unlimited number of potential buyers to try on the dress within the boutique only.

7. The client agrees not to advertise the garment elsewhere whilst Reloved Wedding Boutique has the dress/item in stock. If the client sells the dress privately, Reloved Wedding Boutique will require payment of the standard fee for selling this item in paragraph 2. above.
